

Day 2 Fishguard to St David's only 39k but 600m of ascent

Leaving Fishguard we abandon the NCN4 and make a detour to visit Strumble Head, before re-joining the Celtic Trail near Abercastle.

We'll stop there to view the picturesque cove. Trefin (25km) would provide a convenient coffee venue.

This is our shortest day, arriving in St David's in time for lunch.

This is the UK's smallest city and Wales' most westerly. We will have plenty of time to explore the many little streets and alleyways, not forgetting the 12th-century cathedral.

Leaving Trefin, we have our last close view of the sea, though we never stray more than about 500m until we approach St David's, still following NCN4

Things to do in St David's

Time in the afternoon to look round St David's